AW22

We've fallen in love with nature as it's proven to be a safe retreat from our daily life inside. Once cooler weather comes people adapt to the chill with fire pits, warm jackets and hot drinks. Colors mirror bright active outdoor products. Primary brights and jewel tones lead the pack and rich autumnal hues splash over smooth, oily and slick surfaces.

Two years from now people will have fatigue from an offering of “safe” product choices. No matter where we are, what’s going on or how our lives have adapted the desire for something new and different will be desired. A wide array of super brights dazzle on 3-D, holographic and metallic surfaces.

SUB-POP

AW22

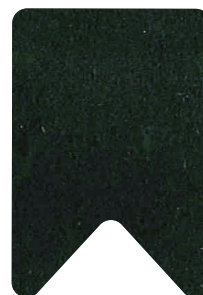

Post or an on-going pandemic will also have people cocooning, working at home or in quieter spaces. A sort of post traumatic stress of keeping risk and chaos to a minimum creates a need for comforting materials. It's a classic palette of rich browns, burgundy and even athletic whites for a clean look. There is even a surprising spearmints shade that accentuates the more subdued colors. Surfaces are soft and buttery and range from no grain at all to rich plump ones.

XJ LEATHER AUTUMN / WINTER 2022

AW22

No longer do people question eco leathers, nor shy away from any higher costs. It is a reason to buy... almost an automatic purchase. What's more important is it's essential to our environment. Technologies continue to evolve resulting in safer solvents and re-use of water in the tanning process. Nuanced earthy pigments of olive greens, rusty browns, and faded yellows highlight this story. Eco extends into a wide range of looks from distressed and aged to exquisite and delicate.
